

PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

MOTION	TO...	RESPONSE
My delegation makes a motion to start the session.	This motion is used to open every single session after a break.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting ... "There has been a motion to open the session, all of those in favor, against. The motion clearly passes (or does not pass)."
My delegation makes a motion to set the agenda.	This motion works to choose which topic to debate.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting ... "There has been a motion to set the agenda with topic ___, all of those in favor, against. The motion clearly passes.(or does not pass)."
My delegation makes a motion to open the speaker's list.	It opens the speaker's list. All the delegates will be added to the list in alphabetical order. Delegates will have one minute to recite their speech when the Moderator orders it.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting, then after each delegation recites the speech, the Moderator will name the next delegation to take the floor ... "There has been a motion to open the speaker's list. All of those in favor, against. The motion clearly passes (or does not pass). Please delegate of ___ take the floor."
Second the motion.	Used to show support for a motion and grants the delegate in second position on the floor.	The Moderator chooses freely and says "Who seconds the motion?" (second in the speaker's list or second talking in the moderated debate).
Point of Personal Privilege.	Used to request a personal need such as going to the bathroom, take away your coat, etc.	The Moderator grants the motion and agrees or disagrees on giving permission to the delegate.
Point of Inquiry.	Request information from the Moderator (translations or doubts).	The Moderator grants the motion and solves the doubt of the delegate (if possible).
Point of Order.	Argue against the procedure or the accuracy of another delegate's argument.	The delegate can interrupt and the Moderator needs to correct the fallacy in the debate or the parliamentary procedure.
My delegation makes a motion to open a moderated caucus.	Caucus among the delegates with assistance from the moderator.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting, but only if the speaker's list is done ... The caucus time and the speaking time must be established. "There has been a motion to open a moderated caucus for 30 minutes with a speaking time of 45 seconds.. All of those

		in favor, against. The motion clearly passes(or does not pass)."
Second the motion.	Used to show support for a motion and grants the delegate in second position on the floor.	The Moderator chooses freely and says " Who seconds the motion? ".... (second talking in the moderated caucus).
My delegation makes a motion to close the moderated caucus.	Close the moderated caucus.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting, but only if the caucus is almost solved and with resolutions on the floor ... " There has been a motion to close the moderated caucus. All of those in favor, against. The motion clearly passes.(or does not pass). "
My delegation makes a motion to start an unmoderated caucus.	Caucus among the delegates without assistance from the moderator.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting, but only if the moderated caucus is done ... " There has been a motion to open an unmoderated caucus. All of those in favor, against. The motion clearly passes (or does not pass). "
My delegation makes a motion to close the unmoderated caucus.	Close the unmoderated caucus.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting, but only if the resolutions are ready to be presented to the committee ... " There has been a motion to close the unmoderated caucus. All of those in favor, against. The motion clearly passes (or does not pass). "
My delegation makes a motion to present the resolutions (specify time, questions, follow ups and comments).	To present the resolutions in the committee in a speaker's list form.	The Moderator repeats the motion and then opens it to voting, proceeding with the resolution presentations ... " There has been a motion to present the resolutions with (time, questions, follow ups and comments) all those in favor, against. The motion clearly (not) passes. Are there any motions on the floor? Since not, delegate of ___, the floor is yours. "
Point of Information.	Ask a question to the speaker during the presentation of the resolutions.	The Moderator decides to grant the motion or reject it if there are not enough motions left. " Granted " or " There are no questions left, are there any motions on the floor? " The delegate may follow-up to the answer of the question
Point of Commentary.	To make a comment during the presentation of the resolutions.	The Moderator decides to grant the motion or reject it if there are not enough motions left. " Granted " or " There are no points of commentary left, are there any motions on the floor? "
My delegation makes a	To vote in the	Automatically after the last resolution is presented, the motion to roll call vote.	committee upon the resolutions presented.	Moderator can receive the motion to open the resolutions to voting and count votes ...

		Are there any motions on the floor?... since not the committee will proceed to the roll call vote. As we name your delegation please say yes, no or abstain.
My delegation makes a motion to close the session.	End the meeting.	The Moderator repeats the motion and opens it to voting if you think it's a good moment to end the debate ... "There has been a motion to close the session, all of those in favor, against. The motion clearly (not) passes."
