Committee: League of Third Reich

Topic: Creating a New League of Nations based on Nazi Germany ideals to lay the foundations for peace and the reorganization of international relations.

Chairs: Othon Rios and Jacqueline Gonzalez

The League of Nations was an organization for international affairs established after World War I. Its purpose was to avoid the repetitions of war, which main goals included collective security, disarmament, using negotiation and diplomacy to avoid enmity between countries and refine international welfare. The first League of Nations ended on April 19, 1946, since it wasn't working as its founders sought. The League aimed to achieve peace and at the moment, this is needed. After World War II and the Nazi German win, there have been many actions but none of them achieving a healthy environment. For our world and society to peacefully coexist, we need to bring back the idea of the first League of Nations. The creation of this "New League of Nations" is essential, and in order for it to work, it has to be based on Nazi Germany ideals.

Nazi Germany led by the leader Adolf Hitler won the Second World War in 1945. This significant win made the direct annexation of countries Nazi Germany was allied to, including Norway, Denmark, Finland, and Sweden possible. As well countries such as Switzerland kept German as their native language. On the other hand, the General Government of Poland expanded to the Soviet Union, and this region, in particular, was turned into an extendable slave labor land. Japan turned into the temporary receiver of the rest of the Soviet Union. Adolf Hitler fought for the overall control of France, Ireland, and Great Britain along with the transformation of Spain and Portugal which were turned into "satellite states". Furthermore, he re-established the colonies which were lost during the First World War in sub-Saharan Africa and turned South Africa into a pro-Nazi land. Adolf Hitler was capable of decreasing the number of believers in religions such as Christianity and made polygamy not just legal but normal. This polygamy normalization had the goal to grow the German population

The United States was very affected by the end of the war, many of its soldiers were affected physically and mentally. A great quantity of money was spent on the army that failed in the war. The country got into a very controversial political situation, information was found stating that Pearl Harbor's Lieutenant Husband E. Kimmel was not informed that the government had deciphered the attack by the Japanese some days before. This caused internal conflicts between the army and the government. Many companies like Ford Motors were involved in fraud with foreign countries that affected the country's economy. President Franklin D Roosevelt was in a hospital for two months due to a cerebral hemorrhage, he was operated on, and he miraculously stayed alive.

On the other hand, the United Kingdom has been suffering many changes since the war ended. Prime Minister Winston Churchill, who gave unconditional support to end the war, lost the elections of 1945 against Clement Atlee with Liberal ideals. Atlee is currently investing money in industries, public health systems, public transportation, and civil Aviation. The United Kingdom is trying to recover from the war, the British society with the help of their new Prime Minister is working hard to reestablish a solid economy with the help of new industries.

The Soviet Union was the country with more deaths registered during the war. Approximately more than 28 million people died in the war, including soldiers, politics, and innocent people. The Soviet Union lost part of its territory, they lost the Great Patriotic War against Nazi German. The leader Joseph Stalin surrendered to the German forces, but he showed it to his people as an agreement with Germany to stop the war. Stalin's government has not changed since they lost against Nazi Germany Viacheslav Mólotov is still the Vice President of the Council of Ministers of the Soviet Union and Stalin has most of the power of what is left of the USSR.

However, Spain did not suffer a lot of changes due to the war. Francisco Franco was in negotiations with Adolf Hitler, but they did not achieve an agreement. Spain declared itself neutral towards the war. Nevertheless, Spain was ready with an army in case an emergency emerged. Otherwise, Argentina initially was in a neutral position, furthermore, the Argentinian government and its people were convinced that war was a potential source of economic benefit by exporting to both sides. Argentina influenced South American countries like Chile and Colombia to join the war, it could be beneficial to them. Colombia joined the Allies, providing petroleum to countries like the United States. Chile was initially neutral but it, later on, joined the allies. Easter Island was used to strengthen the naval forces of Chile.

Mexico is being led by President Manuel Ávila Camacho, he did not invest a lot of money in the army, that money was used to help the citizens, a lot of public health centers were constructed and industry increased exponentially.

In conclusion, Nazi Germany has affected the way of living after their won World War II. Due to this, a new League of Nations is needed. Countries from almost all around the world were affected by the war. Many people died and cities were destroyed. The League of Third Reich considers this as an important topic since it has a worldwide impact. As well, many countries and political leaders want to avoid war and history repetition. Creating a solution to fulfill international needs has to include aspects like economy, human rights, management and control of weapons, society, and politics to discuss what countries should do to achieve wellness. Delegates are required to discuss and find a solution that satisfies the rest of the committee.

“Success is not final, failure is not fatal: it is the courage to continue that counts.” “You have enemies? Good. That means you've stood up for something, sometime in your life.”

-Winston Churchill
